St Mary's University College is proud of its reputation as a specialist, distinctive and high performing institution of higher education. It offers a friendly, welcoming environment where staff and students work together, and the students are at the core of everything.

St Mary's offers degree programmes in Initial Teacher Education (Primary and Post-Primary), and in Liberal Arts. It is also a leading centre for teacher education in the Irish medium. The Bachelor of Education (BEd) degree programme leads to a professional qualification to teach in schools. The Bachelor of Liberal Arts (BA) opens up a wide variety of career opportunities in different fields.

St Mary's enjoys an excellent partnership with Queen's University, Belfast in which the College is autonomous but, at the same time, enjoys a close relationship of collaborative provision with this high status Russell Group university. The College has a good profile of international student mobility with students often choosing to complete part of their degree programme at partner universities abroad. The College welcomes students from all sections of the community and works for the development of the whole person through an emphasis on great pastoral care.

Why Study at St Mary's?

Welcoming, Friendly Atmosphere

St Mary's has a real community feel about it and is a place where students are at the core of everything. Our students say that they feel genuinely cared for and supported in their studies and that they are not just a number.

St Mary's is a College of Queen's University

Students have access to the facilities of both campuses such as the McClay library and the PEC. Students also graduate with a degree from Queen's which is a member of the Russell Group.

Fantastic Services for Students

At St Mary's our students come first, so we offer academic, pastoral, and financial support as well as great IT and Library services, a Writing Centre, a Careers Service, and the Students' Union.

Subject Study

The College is a place where students can study a subject that they love and they can combine this with a professional qualification such as teaching. Alternatively, they can choose to study a subject in combination with the diverse and interesting modules within Liberal Arts such as politics, ethics, philosophy, economics, or international studies.

Small Classes

At St Mary's the small classes means that it's easy to get to know the other students and the lecturers. In each class there is an excellent student-tutor ratio which allows timely feedback on assignments and quick access to help when needed.

Excellent Teaching

The enthusiastic lecturers are very knowledgeable and have interesting, interactive styles of teaching.

Social Life

Everyone knows everyone at St Mary's which makes for a great social life. The Students' Union organise legendary nights out and offer many services to assist students with welfare, accommodation, and financial advice.

Clubs and Societies

There are a great range of college clubs and societies, so there's something for everyone at St Mary's. The sports teams have a fantastic success rate for a small college, and everyone gets a chance to play.

Study Abroad

There are several Study Abroad opportunities including students taking a full year at a college in USA and shorter study periods with one of our partner universities in Europe.

Work Placements

The College offers students several opportunities to gain valuable work experience during their degree programme. Students can gain knowledge and skills in a variety of sectors that really prepare them for the world of work. There's also careers advice tailored to individual need.

Location

St Mary's is located in the Gaeltacht area of West Belfast adjacent to the Royal Victoria Hospital. The city centre is only a five-minute journey on the Glider service.

How to Apply

All applications must be made directly to the College as St Mary's is not a member of the Universities and Colleges Admissions Service (UCAS). Online application forms can be accessed using the QR Code below.

The Application deadline for undergraduate degree programmes is Wednesday 21st January, 2026.

St Mary's welcomes applications from students with specific needs. The College's disability policy outlines its commitment to make every reasonable effort to accommodate a student with a disability, long-term medical condition, or specific learning difficulty. To find out more contact:
